

Nationalists Moving Ahead

By Craig Bradshaw

Recent electoral advances in Europe by Nationalist Parties are the sign that the public are tired of the excuses of the Socialists and Internationalist Parties that have led many Nations to financial and community fracture.

Recently the vast improvement in voter support for Geert Wilders and his Freedom Party with a near 200% increase in parliamentary seats from 9 to 24 seats marks the strong shift in thinking in Western Democracies that such countries must not allow themselves to continue to be used as a dumping ground for Third World malcontents or the Islamification of Christian countries.

Here in Australia we have the same situation as Europe in a socialist government with a Prime Minister hell bent on proving to the U.N. just how little she cares about the welfare of Australians so she can get in bed with other U.N. traitors, and an opposition blindly supporting international finance and multi national corporations.

It is time for Australians to get behind One Nation candidates in their efforts to Get Australia Back on Track. Voters are encouraged to abandon the number of one issue parties and support One Nation so that Australians can have people in parliament that will ask the questions that need to be asked of parliament and reveal the contemptuous actions they are taking.
