

We Are Being Duped ... Wake Up Australia!

By Elizabeth Safrany 12th June 2010

China looks after Chinese interests, Japan looks after Japanese interests, Indians look after their interests, and I cannot see anything wrong with this. This is how it should be. We should stop trying to save others and start saving ourselves, while we still can.

Only Westerners are still supposed to worry about global interests. The sooner we realise this, the better our chances are to try and get this country back on track - before it is damaged beyond control or anarchy sets in.

Immigration is a matter for government policy and the national will of the people, and should not be the dictate of the United Nations.

But there doesn't seem the will to do anything about immigration. What better way to divide a nation than this? Hand picked bureaucrats to do the governments bidding. Call the government Marxists, Socialist, Fabians or Gramscians it makes no difference, they all fall into the same category, these people are globalist maniacs!

Virtually uncontrolled mass immigration simply amounts to outright vote importation. This immigrants vote Labor.

Shame, guilt-tripping and the ideologies of political correctness and multiculturalism create factions, division and distracting ideological conflicts.

The mind set of this nation has been lulled into a sense of complacency. Such thinking cannot continue. Our enemies are counting on the people to continue in our docile, placid, and soft ways.

We must replace this false thinking and as Australians who cherish our country become more nationalistic.

Wake Australia before it is too late! If we value our country, democracy and culture we must realize what is happening to this land of ours.

We owe it to the ANZAC'S who fought so hard to bring us freedom and peace for all generations.
